Presentation Details:

For a number of years, a new dispute settlement method has been widely accepted in the United States and internationally, with the use of Dispute Resolution Boards. Their success rate is very high and documentation states that they definitely settle more than 90% of disputes without going to arbitration or to court.

Hydro-Québec follows this global trend towards dispute resolution and has set up its first Dispute Resolution Board. This within the context of the concrete work at the Romaine-2 power station.

The presentation will cover the following:

- What is a Dispute Resolution Board?
- A few statistics
- Necessary elements to set up a Board
- Selecting the members
- How the Board operates
- The benefits of the Board
- Hydro Québec approach
